

BOB SCHIEFFER COLLEGE OF COMMUNICATION

EMMA ANDERSON

It would be an honor to continue to serve the TCU campus community as a representative from the Bob Schieffer College of Communication for the 2022-2023 school year. My initial reason for getting involved in SGA is that through my time at TCU I truly believe I have grown as a servant leader, and that is what organizations such as SGA call us to be; servant leaders. With that, it is important to understand what servant leadership means to me as your representative. By holding myself to the standard of servant leadership, I prioritize utilizing leadership as an opportunity to serve others, working in cohesion with my fellow Bob Schieffer representatives to best advocate for the shared interest of our constituency (such as advocating for equitable access to the tools our students need to succeed), and reflect on my leadership frequently to make sure I am continuing to live up to my pledge to best serve the larger TCU community as well as my constituency to the best of my ability. I have absolutely loved my time as a student in the Bob Schieffer College of Communication and can think of no better way to serve the community that I love than by continuing to work as a servant leader on your behalf in SGA.

CHARLES BAGGARLY

I want to continue the work I've been doing as a college of communications representative. As a member of the dining committee, I want to continue to advocate for what students want. I will also continue to be a bridge between TCU 360 and SGA to help provide breaking news to students as quick as possible. My main priority is to act in the best interest of the student body in every way that is possible.

ALEXANDRIA DELATORRE

As an individual and as a current member of the House of Representatives, I'm guided by my sense of curiosity, authenticity, and open-mindedness. A defining part of my leadership style is not only speaking up to guide those around me, but also knowing when take a moment to listen, and truly reflect on what others are saying. I deeply value the stories and perspectives of others, if they align with or differ from mine. These are values that I live by every day, and seek to enact in each interaction, conversation, and project I'm a part of. If re-elected I would continue to bring this mindset to my role as a Schieffer College representative.

Outside of SGA, I would say that I'm rather involved in the Schieffer College. I'm currently serving as the President of the Advertising Association, the VP of Chapter Development for our PRSSA chapter, and I've joined the Roxo Agency. These positions have given me key skills in communication, navigating differences, and organization that are transferable a role as a SGA representative. These roles also put me in a unique position to interact with and understand a variety of constituents across all grade levels and majors, enabling me to effectively represent the interests of Schieffer students.

The Schieffer College has given me the opportunity to attain a wonderful education amongst individuals that support me along the way. It is an honor for me to represent such a driven and inspiring community of students, professors, and faculty.
